Over the past 40 years, Nowchem has been a leading family owned and operated chemical and pharmaceutical manufacturer. Over this time, we have invested in research and development to ensure we are constantly supplying our clients with quality, innovative and sustainable products.

Nowchem has implemented a continual improvement strategy to assess the impact our products and industry has on the environment. Through this we have been able to implement changes around the use of plant based materials, drum and packaging recycling, education programs to enable our end users to make sustainable choices when it comes to cleaning chemicals and also focus on waste minimisation throughout the manufacturing process. This range offers exceptional quality and performance whilst being gentle to our environment making us sustainable now and for the future.

Your support of our family owned business helps keep employment in regional Australia and ensures continued development, not only in our products, but also in our team and the communities where we operate.
